President's Truth

I was working on some of my Lions business at home recently when my eight year old grandson asked what I was doing. I told him I was preparing for a meeting. Knowing that I am retired, he asked if I got paid for doing this work. When I said no, he couldn't understand since his father gets paid for his work. I explained that Lions are a club that helps people for free. Lions help those who are blind or have hearing problems as well as those who have diabetes. We buy things for schools, fix things in parks, help kids go to college, send deaf children to camps, and bring music programs to our city. My grandson said that Lions must be good people to do all of that for free and added that when he grows up he would like to be a Lion. I agree, Lions are good people who do good things and the pay is our service. Kids do recognize the "good guys".
